

Social Media Management & Marketing Program

More and more, companies are realizing how important a strong social media presence is to their overall marketing efforts. In particular, Facebook offers brands a unique ability to forge strong relationships with customers and engage with them in new and exciting ways. Several companies within public safety have realized that benefit, building communities of customers and using their Facebook presence to promote new products, sponsorships and PR efforts. Others, however, haven't yet had the opportunity to meaningfully take advantage of social media marketing.

PoliceOne's Social Media Management & Marketing program will help structure and fully manage your company's Facebook campaign, working closely with you to map out a strategy that fits your objectives, customizing your Facebook presence and then operating your Fan page on an ongoing basis. This includes locating relevant content to post, interacting with your fans on your behalf, marketing your social presence on our site and in our eNewsletter, and conducting regular Facebook promotions on your page.
